

Join us in Boston for the 2020 ASSFN Biennial Meeting!

JUNE 20-23, 2020

WESTIN BOSTON WATERFRONT HOTEL

Partnering with the American Epilepsy Society for expanded and in-depth epilepsy sessions presented with our AES colleagues

The Abstract Center is NOW OPEN!

Submit your abstracts at assfn2020.cns.org.
Deadline is January 9, 2020. Abstracts can be submitted for oral or poster presentation. Posters will be discussed during the popular Interactive Poster Session with Wine and Cheese on Monday afternoon, and awards will be given to the top posters.

NEW Meeting format in 2020

Plenary Session starts on Saturday and Opening Reception on Saturday night!

CAN'T MISS sessions on Neuromodulation, Movement Disorders, Pain, Pediatric Epilepsy, and much more!

Visit with exhibitors and enjoy a beverage while you view state-of-the art products in the Exhibit Hall.

DON'T MISS THIS YEAR'S HONORED GUEST

Monday, June 22
Honored Guest Lunch

Dennis Spencer

Harvey and Kate Cushing Professor of Neurosurgery; Chief, Epilepsy Surgery; Director, Epilepsy Fellowship; Director, Pituitary Surgery

Dr. Spencer is the Harvey and Kate Cushing Professor in the Department of Neurosurgery at Yale University School of Medicine. He is an internationally recognized leader in the surgical treatment of neurological diseases causing epilepsy and developed a widely used neocortical sparing surgical approach for patients with temporal lobe epilepsy. Dr. Spencer was the recipient of the 1999 American Epilepsy Society's Research Award in Clinical Investigation and the 2006 Society of Neurological Surgeons' Grass Award for Excellence in Research.